The Pastor's Perspective

Hardy as a Leadership Church

One of the things I'm praying for Hardy is that we'll be a leadership church. What do I have in mind?

Let's start by considering ourselves as individual disciples.

We can say that we cross three lines of commitment. First, we cross the line of faith and become followers of Jesus. We put our faith in him. Second, we cross the line of claiming responsibility for our own growth in Christ. When we're young we depend on others to feed and clothe us. Our learning is dependent on what others (metaphorically) feed us. When we take responsibility for our own growth in Christ, we practice spiritual disciplines. We pray, we spend time in scripture, we worship. Third, we get to the place where we take responsibility for others. We've gotten God's vision for what He wants to do in their lives and have matured enough to be a part of that. We love people and seek to bless them.

How's that connected with being a leadership church?

Hardy Memorial is the largest and strongest Global Methodist congregation in the region. There are many small churches out there that are barely hanging on. It might be that they're having trouble filling the pulpit. It might be that they're a "hospice church," currently holding on, but there's little vision, no growth, they're holding on until the church closes. As a leadership church we would come alongside churches like that and lift them up. Our people would walk alongside their people and transfuse life from our congregation into theirs.

The opportunity to do this could come sooner than we might expect, so it's good for us to be prepared. There are at least three things I see that we'll need to do to be this kind of leadership church.

First, we as members of Hardy will have to get a vision for being this kind of church in connection with other churches. I think that will come as we cross those first three lines I mentioned.

A second requirement is that we'll need to raise up more preachers. Having more preachers would be good for us – it's healthy for a church to hear more than one voice from the pulpit – and could be a blessing we could share with other churches in our region as they have need.

A third thing that would help mightily is gaining financial margin here at Hardy. We're making it now, but our debt load of almost $13,000 a month makes things perpetually tight. I'm praying for God to eliminate that debt so we can gain margin. I'll say more about that another time.

What do you think? Are you willing to pray for a powerful move of God in these areas? Are you willing to ask God what your role might be?
